

A photograph of a CR2032 3V coin cell battery connected to a green PCB. The PCB features a microcontroller, several resistors, and other electronic components. The assembly is placed on a blue surface next to a ruler for scale.